Explore the many exciting attractions in Gaston County!

One of our premier attractions is Daniel Stowe Botanical Garden, covering 110 acres of spectacular plants, flowers, and more. Second on our list is Crowder's Mountain State Park, the highest point in Gaston County, offering spectacular views from sheer vertical cliffs which drop 150 feet. Next is The Schiele Museum of Natural History, a noteworthy science museum and planetarium that features both permanent and touring exhibits. Make sure you take time to see Christmas Town USA in McAdenville. Every December, hundreds of thousands of twinkling lights turn this small mill town into a spectacular holiday display. A world-class recreation and training facility, the U.S. National Whitewater Center, rounds out our top five attractions. The Center is set among 400 acres of woodlands along the scenic Catawba River. The multi-use facility has a climbing center, mountain-biking trails and running trails.

Twas the Month Before Christmas

The team works year-round making sure the thousands of strings of lights are ready for the Lighting Ceremony.

Christmas Town USA

McAdenville

704-823-2260

www.mcadenville-christmastown.com

Each December, hundreds of thousands of twinkling lights turn this small mill town into a spectacular holiday display. Visitors stroll down Main Street surrounded by the sights and sounds of Christmas.

The history of the McAdenville Christmas Lights dates back to 1956, when the McAdenville Men's Club conceived the idea of using lights to decorate a few trees around the McAdenville Community Center. Nine trees were decorated the first year and the lighted trees have increased each year. More than 450,000 bulbs on approximately 400 trees give off a warm holiday glow to the town and surrounding area.
